New Website Helps UK Travellers Earn More Miles, More Points & More Rewards

CALGARY Apr 14 - Whether you're taking a flight, booking a hotel or renting a car, a new U.K. website has been launched to help you earn more out of your travel rewards program.

Like its worldwide dot Com namesake, FrequentFlyerBonuses.co.uk lists bonus mile and point offers for airline, hotel, and credit card travel reward programs. Updated on a daily basis, the website allows for Internet savvy consumers in the United Kingdom to reap the rewards of the thousands of bonus offers available to them from travel providers.

"Every day people book travel using the Internet and miss out on the tons of rewards available," said Patrick Sojka of FrequentFlyerBonuses.co.uk. "If there's a way to get more points, you'll find it on our website"

In recent surveys it has been found that upwards of 87% of U.K. residents use the web to look for travel information or to book trips. Those consumers are now able to earn extra loyalty points using the bonuses that are listed and tracked at FrequentFlyerBonuses.co.uk.
